

All problems are from O'Grady et al. Contemporary Linguistics: An Introduction, 5th edition. Page numbers from the 4th edition are given in square brackets as [4e: p.xx].

Problem 1: English stress. Do problem 12 on p.54 of Ch.2. [4e: p.60]

Problem 2: Hindi murmured stops. Do problem 2 on p.102 of Ch.3. [4e: p.121]

Problem 3: Mokilese voiceless vowels. Do part (i) of problem 3 on p.102 of Ch.3. [4e: p.121–122]

Problem 4: Swampy Cree stops and affricates. Do parts (i)–(iii) of problem 5 on p. 103 of Ch.3. [4e: p.122–123] For parts (i) and (ii), if you think the sounds are allophones, state the conditioning factors in words only—you can just ignore the part that says “and then, using features, write a rule that accounts for their distribution”, because we haven't learned about features and rules yet!
