

Miniatures

We at Four Oreos from Paradise are big fans of a bonus called “Our Old Toys Do Stuff” created by Joanie Loves Trotsky for the January, 2003 Williams Trivia Contest. In that vein, we have used our toys and other household items to recreate various scenes from various places. Your job is to name the scene being referenced.

Keep in mind that we worked with what we had, so don't read too much into the fact that most of the characters are Star Trek action figures. (But, be impressed with how many Star Trek action figures we have!) Also, our rule was no photoshopping, and we only broke that once. Good luck!
