Monster Madness

He who fights with monsters might take care lest he thereby become a monster. Or get squished and eaten. Given the enemy description from The Legend of Zelda series, tell how you would defeat it, and at least one game in which the foe appears.

1. A giant face appears in the floor and begins to hurl pots and floor tiles at you.
2. Two horsemen are charging at you from a pair of paintings.
3. A giant eel with an eye on its back begins marauding about a water-filled chamber.
4. A pair of sorceresses fuse and begin to hurl frost and flame at you.
5. An enormous floating goat-like skull menaces you with balls of fire.
6. A giant roving caterpillar o' death/Chinese dragon on a string starts rampaging hither and thither.
7. A strange blob-like individual mirrors every step you take.
8. Two absurdly huge serpentine insects pop out of the desert.
9. An abominable snowwoman goes insane and gets covered by ice.
10. A squealing, annoying monster with a metallic helm charges at you.
