

Hooray! It's a Whole Bonus on North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, and West Virginia!

A bonus regarding the states that have no Williams students on campus in the 2018-2019 school year.

Part 1: An Extremely Brief Miscellaneous Section

1. Some of the states in question contain national parks. Name all of the national parks at least partially in one of these states, for a half-point each. Badlands, Grand Teton, Theodore Roosevelt, Wind Cave, Yellowstone
2. Four of the capitals of these states are named after individuals, and the fifth is named after a group of people. Once again, for a half-point each, give the first and last name of the people who lend their names to the capitals, and for the fifth half-point, name the group. Otto von Bismarck; Pierre Chouteau, Jr.; the Cheyenne; Abraham Lincoln; Charles Clendenin
3. The states in question border thirteen states (excluding each other) and two Canadian provinces. Name all of them. Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Virginia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan

Part 2: Probably Not Your Hometown Heroes

On the next page is a gallery of 20 pictures of people. All of them were born in either North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, or West Virginia. For a point each, name each person pictured. For an extra half point each, name the state where each person was born.
