

Part I - We Who Are About to Die: give the (real-life) speaker of each of these last words (sometimes translated to English).

1. I love you very much, my dear Beaver
2. Tomorrow, at sunrise, I shall no longer be here
3. I have offended God and mankind because my work did not reach the quality it should have.
4. This dying is boring.
5. God damn the whole friggin' world and everyone in it but you, Carlotta
6. This is no way to live!
7. I'm bored with it all
8. Damn it! Don't you dare ask God to help me!
9. I must go in, for the fog is rising
10. Thomas Jefferson still survives
11. Is it the Fourth?
12. Pardon me, sir, I meant not to do it
13. Go on, get out! Last words are for fools who haven't said enough
14. I am the master of my fate: I am the captain of my soul.

Part II - Off the Air: Give the TV show with the following final line.

15. "I went ahead and ordered something for the whole table."
16. "Should we get some coffee?"
"Sure... Where?"
17. "I love you all. Class dismissed."
18. "Sorry, we're closed."
19. "We've been waiting for you."
20. "There's a lot of beauty in ordinary things. Isn't that kinda the point?"

21. "Hey, you've been great! See you in the cafeteria!"

22. "How's Annie? How's Annie? How's Annie?"

Part III - The Final Page: Give the book or short story that has the following final line.

23. In a place far away from anyone or anywhere, I drifted off for a moment.

24. And then he ran home and opened the door for his two mothers

25. She can still hear the beat, beyond those trees and those, and she runs towards it. She runs.

26. He was soon borne away by the waves, and lost in darkness and distance

27. Who knows but that, on the lower frequencies, I speak for you?

28. A couple of years later I went away to college and I don't know where the fuck she went

29. I could hear the human noise we sat there making, not one of us moving, not even when the room went dark

30. "It's no real pleasure in life."

31. They wept together, for the things they now knew

32. When we reach the city.

33. There was some open space between what he knew and what he tried to believe, but nothing could be done about it, and if you can't fix it you've got to stand it.

34. "Gee-" said Hazel, "I could tell that one was a doozy."

35. "Oh, my poor Mathilde! Mine was an imitation! It was worth five hundred francs at most! ..."

36. "Like a dog!" he said; it was as if the shame of it should outlive him.

37. So much of life in its meshes! She called in her soul to come and see.

38. It's old light, and there's not much of it. But it's enough to see by.

39. It was a fine cry—loud and long—but it had no bottom and it had no top, just circles and circles of sorrow.
40. He always tells the children the story of how I went after him by sitting by the mailbox every day, and naturally I laugh and let him, because I like for people to think what pleases them and makes them happy.
41. In your rocking-chair, by your window, shall you dream such happiness as you may never feel
42. For the half of a century no mortal has disturbed them. In pace requiescat!
43. The rain beat against the windows all night long.
44. Matter of fact, I think this the youngest us ever felt.
45. and the child's body expanded and walked about and drew pay and lived its life untenanted, a thing among things, its self's soul so much vapor aloft, falling as rain and then rising, the sun up and down like a yoyo.

Part IV - Stay for the Credits: Give the movie with the following final line

46. "Louis, I think this is the beginning of a beautiful friendship."
47. "I do wish we could chat longer, but I'm having an old friend for dinner."
48. "I'm gonna go home and sleep with my wife."
49. "You know somethin', Utivich? I think this just might be my masterpiece."
50. "Ernest Hemingway once wrote, 'The world is a fine place and worth fighting for.' I agree with the second part."
51. "Alright, Mr. DeMille, I'm ready for my close-up."
52. "I was cured all right."
53. "I get to live the rest of my life like a schnook."

54. "And crawling on the planet's face, some insects called the human race. Lost in time, and lost in space...and meaning."
55. "And that she left behind small traces of her time on Earth, visible only to those who know where to look."
56. "Rorschach's Journal: October 12th, 1985. Tonight, a comedian died in New York."
57. "I used to hate the water."
"I can't imagine why."