

Super Bonus 2

Our Favorite Bonii, Revisited

Every contest, there's always a bonus or two that's so cool in concept that we wish we could've been there to write some of it. Conversely, there's always one that seems to leave a lot of ground uncovered or undeveloped. Even for contests that one is contributing to oneself, there's always an idea for a great question that only occurs months later, or that one wishes one could update after the fact. For all of those reasons, we're taking the opportunity now to write the questions we couldn't for the eight contests that took place over our undergraduate stays at Williams over the past four years. Enjoy.

But in all of those bonii there are some important people, eras and disciplines that were overlooked, and some clever ideas we wanted to develop on, so let's have another go.
