

Hour 4

In our journey scouring the universe for amazing trivia questions, we've uncovered a plethora of previously discovered fantastic beasts! The only problem is we have no idea what they're called, and we can't remember where we found them. Below the list of fantastic beasts, you'll find an atlas showing all of the places we've been. For each picture, please identify the name of the creature depicted, and match it to one of the locations in the atlas. Each location corresponds to exactly one beast.
